Portfolio Objectives

The primary objective of this portfolio is to preserve capital. The portfolio is diversified across a range of asset classes but with a low overall allocation to funds investing in equities (expected to be no greater than 40%) and other risk assets. Target Volatility: 2%-4.75%

Sustainable philosophy

The ultimate goal of the portfolio is to support more inclusive social and economic development and more sustainable environmental and business practices, whilst generating strong and consistent investment returns. The portfolio will aim to achieve this by investing in a diversified range of funds which include themes such as renewable energy, financial inclusion, education, social housing, climate change action, sustainable waste management and renewable material production.

Monthly investment update

April brought unprecedented market volatility but also highlighted resilience across global financial markets. President Trump's introduction of wide-reaching tariffs, starting with a baseline 10% on all countries, and higher rates for Asia, initially triggered sharp declines. Equities dropped with global markets shedding $10 trillion and the S&P 500 experiencing one of its worst two-day performances since WWII. Bond and currency markets also reacted, as US Treasury yields spiked and the dollar weakened.

However, the outlook improved as the US administration implemented a 90-day pause on the tariffs (excluding China), calming markets and restoring confidence. This led to a powerful equity rebound with the S&P 500 marking its best single-day gain since 2008 on April 9th, and while volatility remained, markets ended the month on a stronger footing, with the S&P 500 down just 0.7% for the month. Although the IMF revised global growth forecasts down, the market's rapid recovery from early shocks suggests strong underlying investor appetite and adaptability, highlighting areas of resilience that could offer long-term investment potential.
