Portfolio description

The primary objective of this portfolio is to achieve a moderate level of capital growth. The portfolio is diversified across a range of asset classes with low-to medium allocation to funds investing in equities (expected to be no greater than 55%) and other risk assets. Target Volatility: 4%-7%

Sustainable philosophy

The ultimate goal of the portfolio is to support more inclusive social and economic development and more sustainable environmental and business practices, whilst generating strong and consistent investment returns. The portfolio will aim to achieve this by investing in a diversified range of funds which include themes such as renewable energy, financial inclusion, education, social housing, climate change action, sustainable waste management and renewable material production.

Monthly investment update

October saw risk assets pull back amid coronavirus developments and several geopolitical events looming on the horizon. Despite markets, and indeed the world in general, coming a long way from the depths of the lockdowns of early 2020, during October many regions teetered on the precipice of further widespread lockdowns as Coronavirus data continued to deteriorate. Despite developments in our understanding of the virus and improved capabilities to track and contain some of the spread, the prospect of further national lockdowns left investors somewhat unnerved. Alongside this, the deadline for Brexit discussions between the UK and EU continued to close in and more importantly, the US Presidential Election looked like it would leave the largest economy in the world politically divided. It is during times like this that our investment philosophy and reluctance to make bets on binary outcomes with little visibility helps us to manage portfolios in a prudent manner with a focus on longer term drivers of value. It is for this reason we decided to make no changes to portfolios during October and continue to watch the development of these global events closely.
